The award, which carries a cash prize of €1,000 towards a future scientific meeting, will be presented to the first author and presenter of the best scientific presentation or poster at each world congress. The author/presenter must be under the age of 40 at the time of the congress.

The winner will be announced at the closing ceremony of each WCE by the chairman of the WES DH Committee and the award will be presented by the WES president.

The David Healy Award for 2014 has been made possible by a donation from the Mangiagalli Journal Club Association.
